Will Ryan/DAGames Document

(This document is not affiliated with any of the previous creators, nor any known individuals that have spoken on the situation. It is intended to remain under an anonymous creator.) THIS DOC IS BEST FORMATTED FOR PC

A Brief Introduction to DAGames

DAGames is a music/gaming channel that was created in 2011. The channel is run predominantly by Will Ryan, AficionadosChris, Sean Webby, and CosmicKeyframeProductions. Will gained popularity around 2017 for his nerdcore music released through the DAGames channel, such as “Build Our Machine”, “Brothers In Arms”, “Break My Mind”, and more. His channel sits at about 2.2 million subscribers and his content has, in recent years, branched out into original content.

In September 2023, a document would be created detailing Will's predatory actions and racist behaviours in the past. This document was generally not well received for the reasons that it was messy and had irrelevant complaints.

About a year later, a second document would be created, and while it was better, it was still critiqued for being “too personal” and rather unorganized. However, this doc was forwarded to various creators, and multiple commentary youtubers would spread the situation further. This doc, however, is a standalone and not connected to any previous docs or their creators.

Any doxxing, harassment, and bullying faced by DAGames/DAGames fans is not encouraged with the creation of this doc, and I am letting it be known that I actively condemn these actions because they are hateful and wrong.

I intend for this to be considered the most reliable and tonally appropriate “main” doc/pov, although I cannot stop others from making their own.

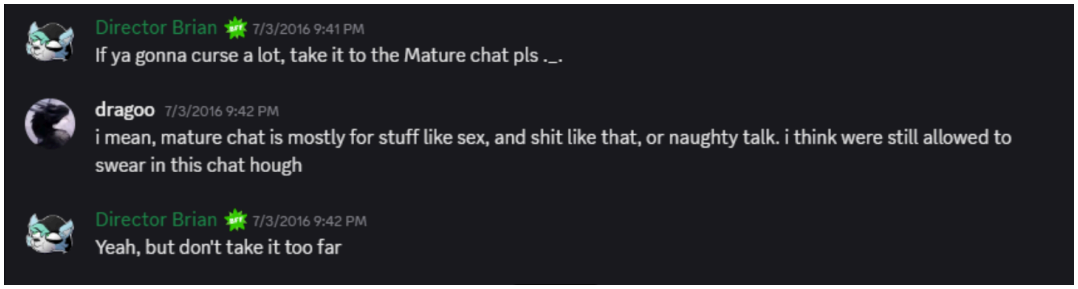
Server NSFW Misconceptions

Firstly, with the growth of this situation, many different false claims have been made regarding the lolicon content and the specific servers/channels. To clear this up; Will himself only posted Lolicon content in AficionadosChris' server. Lolicon was allegedly posted in the DAGames server, however Will was not the one who did it, it was fans already in the established NSFW channel. Will did post NSFW content in the DAGames server too, but it was not Loli - however, it was still posted by Will around minors.

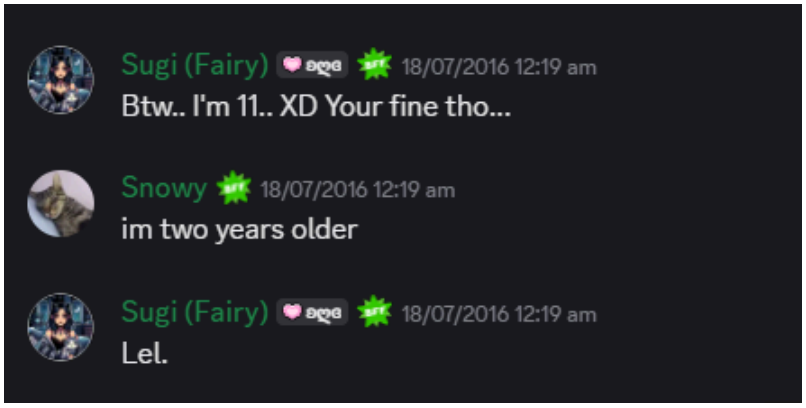
The Mature Channel and the NSFW Channel

In 2016, the DAGames server had a mature channel that was portrayed to be for "extensive swearing" and more sensitive topics, however, the channel did allow NSFW content to be posted. (see below).

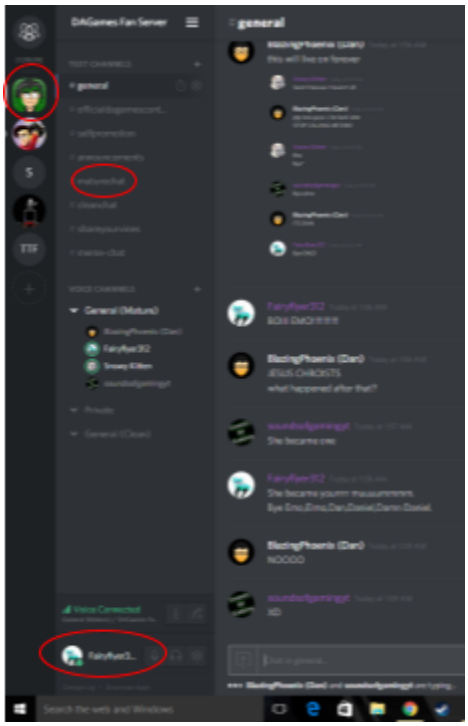


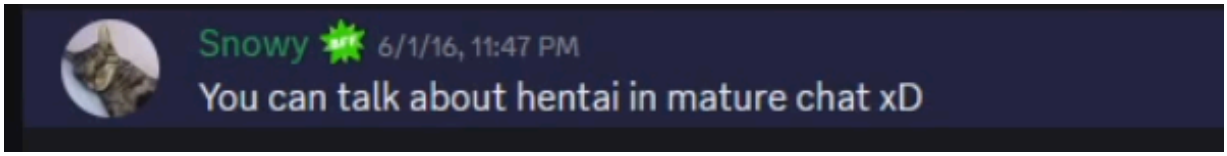
Director Brian 7/3/2016 9:41 PM
If ya gonna curse a lot, take it to the Mature chat pls ._.
dragoo 7/3/2016 9:42 PM
i mean, mature chat is mostly for stuff like sex, and shit like that, or naughty talk. i think were still allowed to swear in this chat hough
Director Brian 7/3/2016 9:42 PM
Yeah, but don't take it too far

The mature channel did not have an age verification or lock, therefore it was accessible to everyone no matter their age. A good example of this is 11 year old Sugi, who was a moderator for DAGames despite their young age. Sugi has since shown they had access to the mature channel in 2016, when they would be 11 years old.



Sugi (Fairy) 18/07/2016 12:19 am
Btw.. I'm 11.. XD Your fine tho...
Snowy 18/07/2016 12:19 am
im two years older
Sugi (Fairy) 18/07/2016 12:19 am
Lel.





(Snowy was 13 here)

The newer NSFW channel existed throughout 2018-19. This channel had the default Discord age verification warning. It is important to note that Sugi and Snowy were not allowed in the NSFW channel, however this generally holds no weight since the mature channel and NSFW channel both allowed pornography and they both had access to the mature channel. It is known that children would lie about their ages to get into the second NSFW channel, and since this was such a prevalent issue, it should have been deleted sooner. An apology for this mismanagement was never issued, though it was needed.

Lolicon: (⚠PROCEED WITH CAUTION⚠)

a Japanese genre of fictional media which focuses on young or young-looking girl characters, particularly in a sexually suggestive or erotic manner.

In legal context, it is normal to hear the term “possess” when talking about CSAM/Lolicon. What does it mean to “possess”, exactly?

It is important to note, first of all, that “possessing” an image is not the same as “owning” it. To possess can also mean to own, though it is not the same in this context. A computer image file can be possessed. When looking at an image online, your computer or device will automatically download a cached copy, therefore you do “possess” it in all technicality, even just scrolling by. Accidents do happen, and the many meanings of “possession” do lead to exploitative loopholes.

However, when an image is downloaded to your hard drive, it creates a copy that wouldn't have existed beforehand. This is considered “making” the image, which is far worse and punishable for the individual. This then leads to publishing, distributing, circulating, trading, etc.

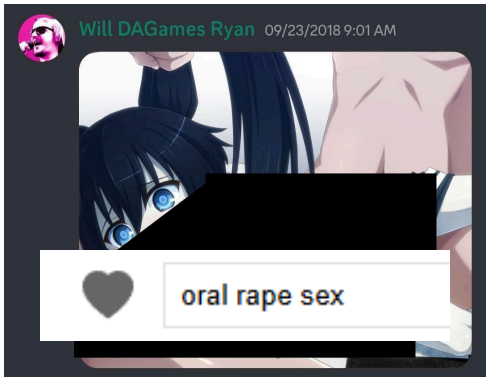
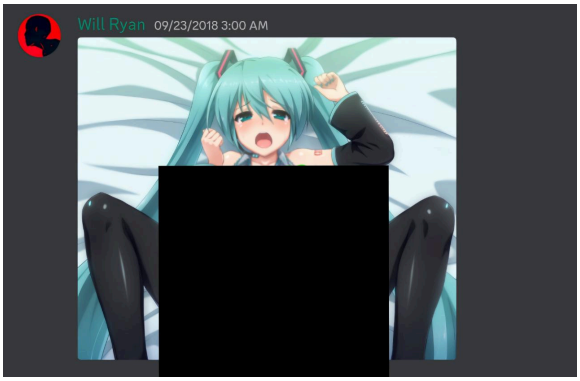
“The wording in s.1 of the 1978 Act as amended was clear and unambiguous. The words "to make" had to be given their natural and ordinary meaning, and in the instant context that was "to cause to exist; to produce by action, to bring about". Downloading an indecent photograph from the Internet was "making a copy of an indecent photograph" since a copy of that photograph had been caused to exist on the computer to which it had been downloaded.” [1] (this website's archive is unreadable on some devices, apologies.)

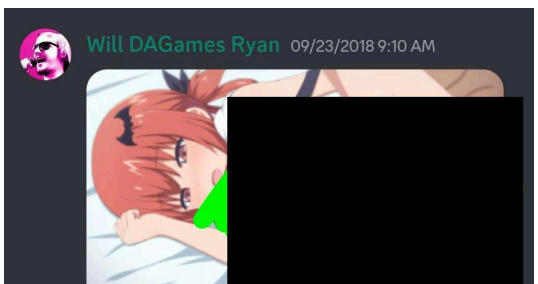
When Will posted loli in Chris’ server, he presumably had these images downloaded to his hard drive. Even if he simply copied and pasted the images, posting the images to the Discord server is still making a copy that would not exist beforehand, therefore this still applies. Will created copies of Lolicon and thus distributed them in a public Discord server. This is not debatable as the conclusion is protected by legal definition.

Will, in 2018, shared art from specific lolicon artists, solidifying the fact that these were not isolated incidents, but rather sought out artworks categorized as loli. (Artists will not be named. A video explaining this further is here. (dead link, youtuber left the platform) I, however, do not want to redirect people explicitly to Lolicon artists.)

Loli Artist #1:



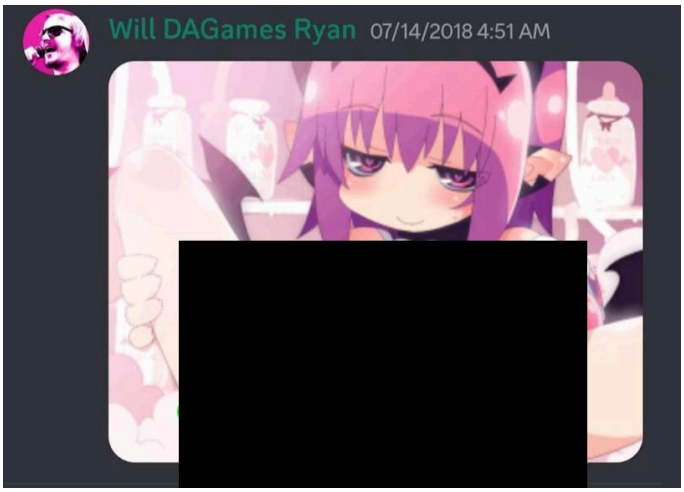


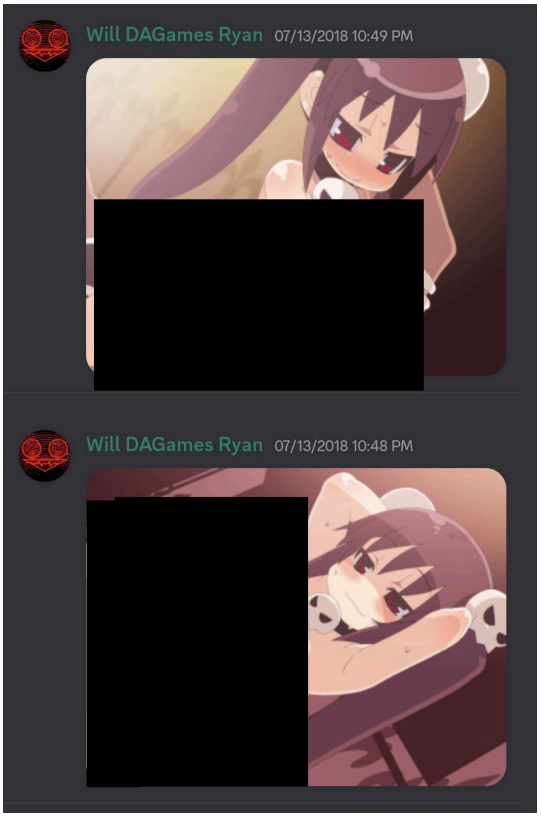


Will shared 3 artworks from an artist that specializes in creating artwork of underaged characters. These were all shared on the same day within a 6 hour timeframe. This artist is Japanese, therefore accidentally coming across this content without explicitly searching for these underaged characters is close to impossible. These characters are, (from left to right,) 16, 16, and 15, which is entirely unethical and is underaged content/Lolicon by definition. The first image is even labelled online as “rape” fetish content.

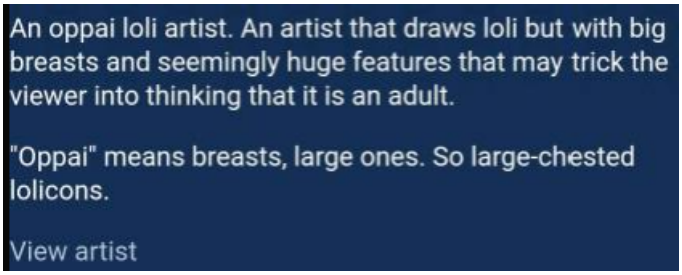
Loli Artist #2:

Will shared 3 artworks from an artist that specializes in creating artwork of underaged characters. These were all shared across 2 days within a 6 hour timeframe. This character shown is actually the artist's original character, which is supposed to look like a child/is a child.





Proof that said artist is advertised to make loli, therefore Will had to know that it was underaged content since he was specifically viewing this artist's content. (see below.)



An oppai loli artist. An artist that draws loli but with big breasts and seemingly huge features that may trick the viewer into thinking that it is an adult.
"Oppai" means breasts, large ones. So large-chested lolicons.

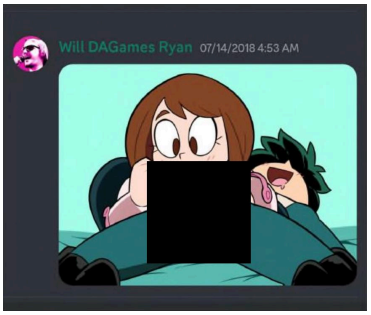
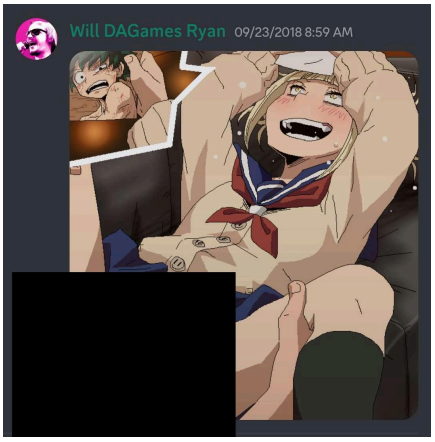
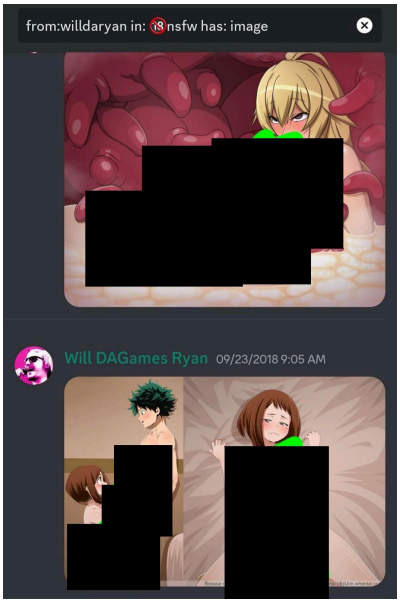
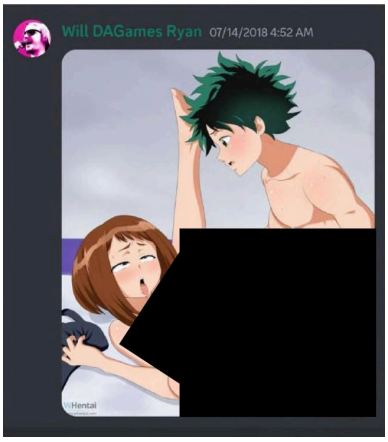
Unspecific lolicon shared

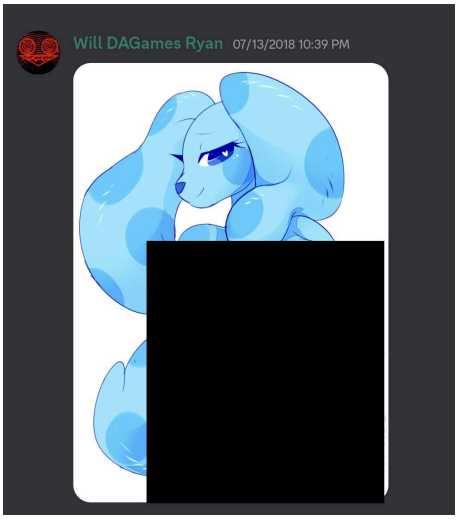
The images below showcase other times Will has distributed underaged content, though no trends were found in the artworks' creators. (see below.)

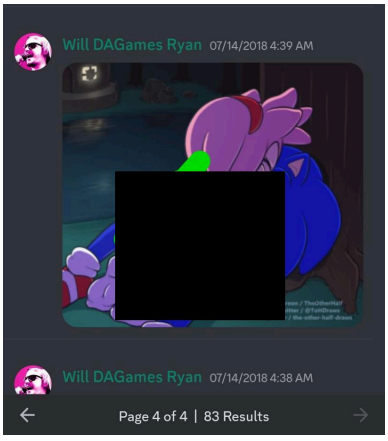


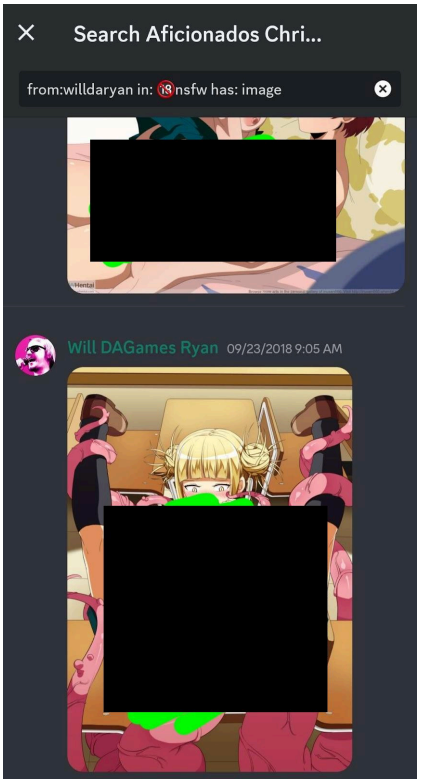


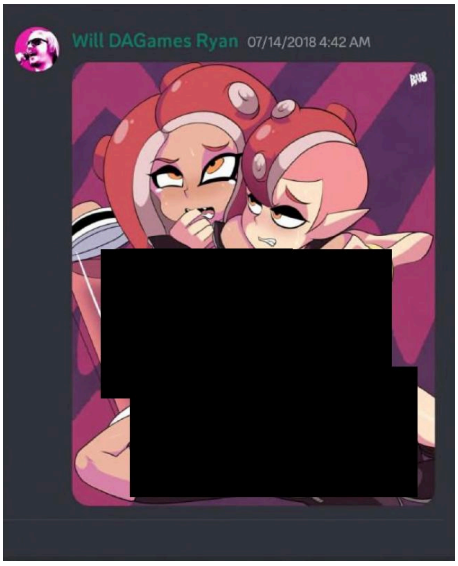


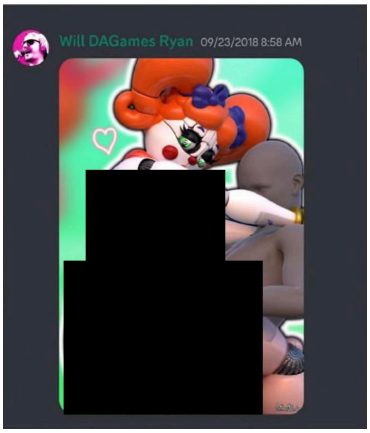






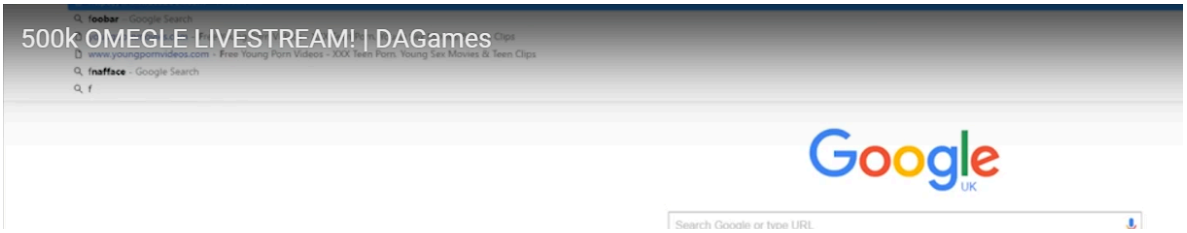


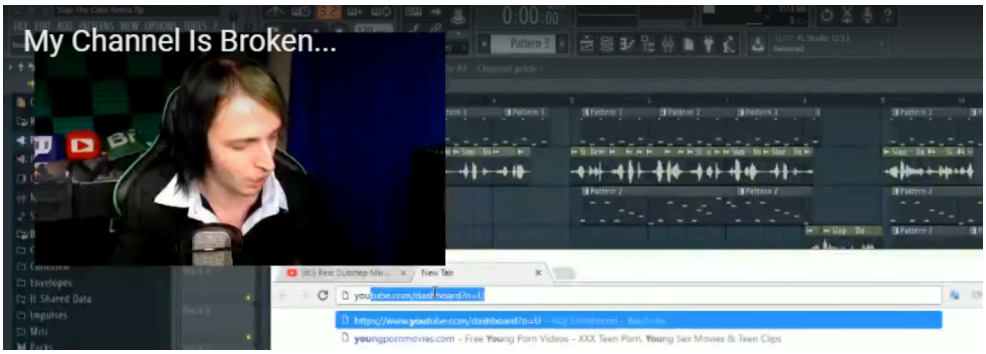




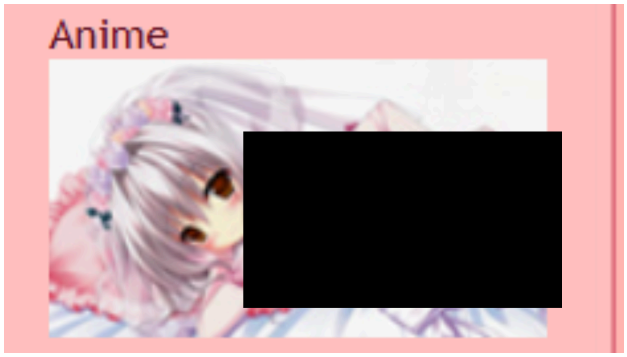
YoungPornMovies Search History (MAJOR TRIGGER WARNING)

In a livestream from September 2017, when searching for “YouTube”, a controversial pornography site called YoungPornMovies showed as a recent search in Wills browser. Though this website would also show up again in an earlier livestream from February of the same year.





This page archived from the day after the Omegle livestream shows lolicon on the front page under “hentai” therefore, this website did explicitly showcase illegal content.



This website had a report abuse page in March 2017 to report potentially illegal content as a way to combat sex trafficking.

This is relevant because it showcases how the website would end up being more vulnerable to potential sex trafficking and illegal young content at the time.

The sidebar with lolicon hentai has existed on the front page of the website since 2016. The loli art, the “school girl” tag, and the “young” tag had all existed since 2016 and after Will had already viewed the website, they were still there.

What is predatory about these things?

To understand this, its first important to understand that CSAM and Sex Trafficking in the porn industry is rooted in misogyny and its connection to pedophilia and infantilization, specifically the idea that women should portray themselves as younger than they are, or if they are already underaged.

Even with the consideration that all models are labelled as 18+, the idea of these women being deemed as young, innocent schoolgirls, for example - something that was advertised on this site to a large scale - is a trope that is inherently predatory.

These “teen” categories exist to exploit the idea of being a/acting as a minor.

Looking at this content and seeking it out is wrong. In every scenario it cannot possibly be defended.

Many mainstream porn sites have constant scandals about CSAM and sex trafficking being present on their websites. To look at this entirely unethical corporation, this entirely unethical industry, and assume that this website was safe of having no “genuine” minors, is ignorant and flat out wrong. Even if every model was 18 and over, Will was still looking for young women content.

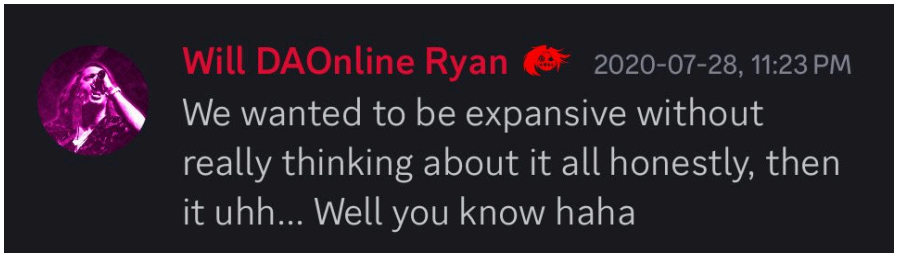
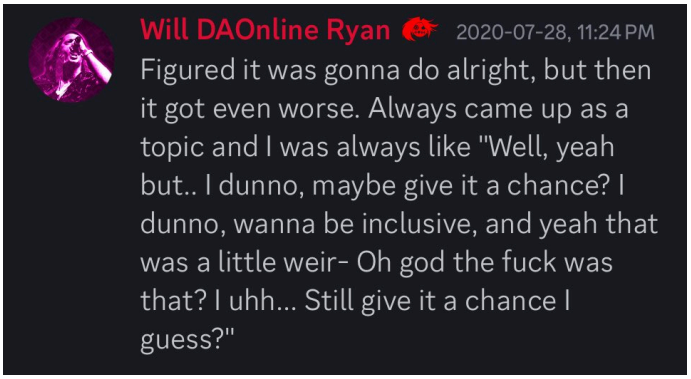
Will claimed he wanted to incorporate “piss pots” in his own server, giving bad people an outlet in a minor-dominated server.

After the NSFW channel was deleted, someone asked Will why the channel got deleted. Will claims “We wanted to be expansive” and wanted to, quote, “incorporate piss pots” (screenshot of this unavailable - though is still in the server able to be searched)



Will DAOnline Ryan
2020-07-28, 11:23 PM
We wanted to be expansive without really thinking about it all honestly, then it uhh... Well you know haha

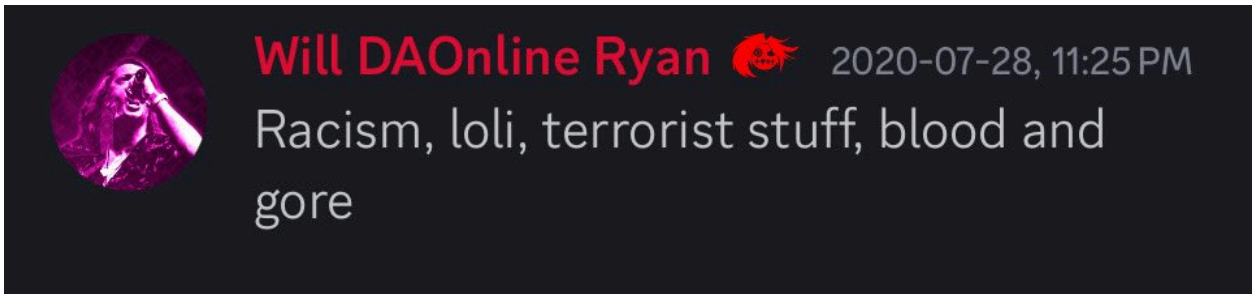
A “piss pot” meaning “A very unpleasant person, particularly a mean, nasty, or contemptible one” - “Piss pots” meaning, in this context, a collective chamber pot. (To be included, to appeal to)
Will sacrificed the safety of his server for the sake of incorporating things he knew were bad. Of course, when this was figured out to have gone wrong, Will adjusted the server accordingly and deleted the NSFW channel. However, that doesn’t get rid of the fact that he wanted to give these people a platform, as well as the fact it was never properly apologized for.
Of course, wanting to include all possible audiences in your server is standard - but not when it could knowingly lead to the unsafety and exploitation of other members.



Will DAOnline Ryan
2020-07-28, 11:24 PM
Figured it was gonna do alright, but then it got even worse. Always came up as a topic and I was always like "Well, yeah but.. I dunno, maybe give it a chance? I dunno, wanna be inclusive, and yeah that was a little weir- Oh god the fuck was that? I uhh... Still give it a chance I guess?"

He even implies he allowed these weird things for a long while, seeing what he knew was bad but not immediately taking charge to prevent it - which falls on him as the head of the server.

People use Will's condemning of loli after this situation as an “apology” or “accountability”, however, accountability in itself means owning your actions, not owning other people's actions. He doesn’t even apologize for allowing this content, and instead the entire server moves on as if nothing happened

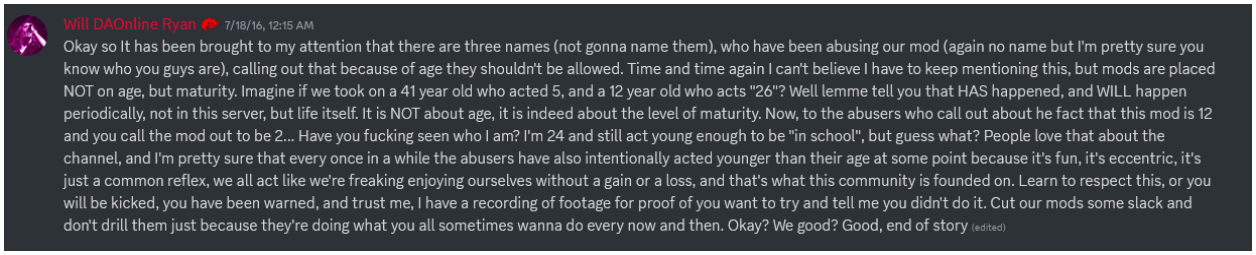


This statement (where he called these things awful) does not directly point to Will's history of consuming loli, but rather the history of it being posted in his server. Just because he says it's bad in this context doesn't immediately point to remorse, because he hasn't explicitly addressed his situation in a remorseful manner.

Will hiring a 11 year old (Sugi) to mod.

The images below from 2016 showcase Will claiming he does not hire mods based on age, but rather maturity. This proves he doesn't care about who is seeing his content, as long as they are "mature". Not only is this irresponsible (Goes against Discord TOS) but it disproves the argument that Wills content isn't for kids. Will doesn't care about children seeing his content so long as they are "mature"...

He then goes on to say his 11 year old moderator, Sugi, is "mature" and that they are "another great mod"



Will DAOnline Ryan 7/18/16, 12:15 AM
Okay so It has been brought to my attention that there are three names (not gonna name them), who have been abusing our mod (again no name but I'm pretty sure you know who you guys are), calling out that because of age they shouldn't be allowed. Time and time again I can't believe I have to keep mentioning this, but mods are placed NOT on age, but maturity. Imagine if we took on a 41 year old who acted 5, and a 12 year old who acts "26"? Well lemme tell you that HAS happened, and WILL happen periodically, not in this server, but life itself. It is NOT about age, it is indeed about the level of maturity. Now, to the abusers who call out about he fact that this mod is 12 and you call the mod out to be 2... Have you fucking seen who I am? I'm 24 and still act young enough to be "in school", but guess what? People love that about the channel, and I'm pretty sure that every once in a while the abusers have also intentionally acted younger than their age at some point because it's fun, it's eccentric, it's just a common reflex, we all act like we're freaking enjoying ourselves without a gain or a loss, and that's what this community is founded on. Learn to respect this, or you will be kicked, you have been warned, and trust me, I have a recording of footage for proof of you want to try and tell me you didn't do it. Cut our mods some slack and don't drill them just because they're doing what you all sometimes wanna do every now and then. Okay? We good? Good, end of story (edited)

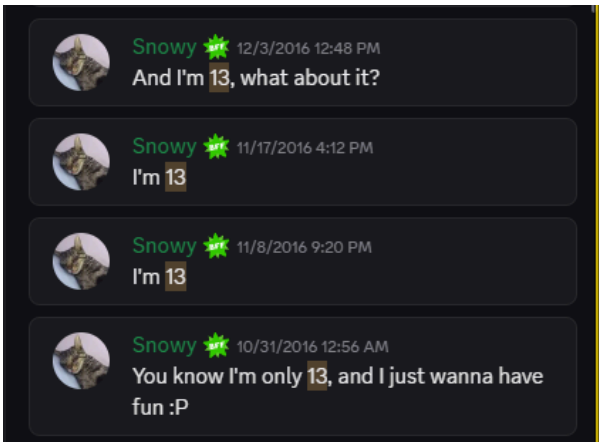
Sugi (Fairy) 7/18/16, 12:20 AM
Yeah...
Will DAOnline Ryan 7/18/16, 12:20 AM
Because you are more mature. You're another great mod that lets loose every now and then, I mean for fuck sake, it's okay to do that every now and then (edited)

Another mod that was 13 (Snowy).



Snowy 12/3/2016 12:48 PM
And I'm 13, what about it?
Snowy 11/17/2016 4:12 PM
I'm 13
Snowy 11/8/2016 9:20 PM
I'm 13
Snowy 10/31/2016 12:56 AM
You know I'm only 13, and I just wanna have fun :P

Another example of this is Snowy, who is shown to have been a mod in 2016 despite their age being 13 at this time. This shows that Will has always evaluated moderators not on their ability to be mods, not their ages, but his own perception of whether or not they are “mature”. However, 11 and 13 year olds are not inherently mature, and putting minors in these situations is incredibly exploitative and predatory. They also witnessed explicit content.

Riz Chaos 4/20/18, 6:18 AM
@Lala (HR) yo babeh. Is gore allowed in nsfw?
Lala (HR) 4/20/18, 6:25 AM
Yep, people go into NSFW knowing theres gonna be offensive content so its alright, the only exceptions are anything illegal or targeting another member. Otherwise have fun.
Also try and use a wee bit of common sense too XD

SEE: Piss pots, Will allowed this.

In the past, many minors were seen engaging in NSFW discussions with other minors or adults. Minors would blatantly discuss their age, but were still allowed in the NSFW channel. This was framed as minors “lying” about their ages to get into the NSFW channel, and though this did happen, it is still effectively placing the blame on the victim. Despite all the times DAGames should have been able to see this pattern, many outside factors, like Wills desire to encourage “piss pots”, Will’s mods and Will himself discussing NSFW in general around children, and DAGames incompetence to run the server stopped these problems from being noticed. Will was even hiring prepubescent minors to be moderators under the guise of them being “mature”, showing proof that care was never a top priority for the children in his server. An apology for the young fans that had to see this content was never issued, and no effective boundaries were set by the DAGames team.

If an owner of a server and its moderators do not place restrictions on nsfw spaces, minors will enter said spaces.
When this content is consumed and they enjoy it, they seek it more. This leads to unnatural sex drives and further craving of more content in the future.
This is why nsfw spaces verify age. Will and the moderators of DAGames failed to add a verification system so people who opened up about being disgusted by seeing this content at a young age were never given an apology for the incompetence of the team. It is entirely unethical to have children moderating a server that includes NSFW content, even if they are not guaranteed to see it. Even if the mature chat was since changed to NSFW and given the bare minimum of security, people were still affected and victimized by the actions done and DA is fully responsible.

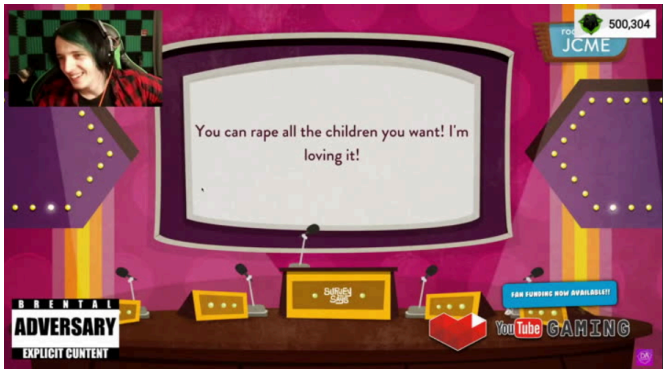
Predatory “Jokes”

Will and friends joke about child rape. (video)



Will sending a meme about having sex with a 3 year old in Lalas server IN 2022.

Will tampering with evidence / running away from the situation

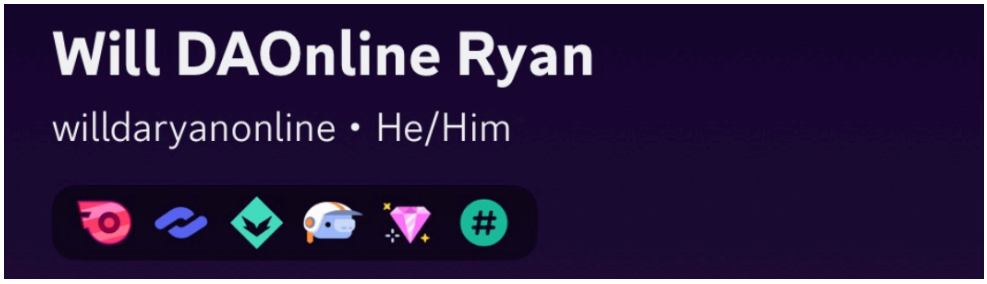
Will changing his username in 2025 to cover up Discord logs

On April 15th, 2025, (after previously not being active in his server for 2 weeks due to controversies arising,) Will would change his username on Discord from 'willdaryan' to 'willdaryanonline'

The reasoning for this is theorized to be a last-ditch effort to tamper with proof and clear his name without accountability. When more discord logs were coming out as proof, they all said 'willdaryan'; and Will wanted to make these logs look less credible.

Not only that, but Will's discord connections were used as proof for logs due to the fact only he could connect them. Along with changing his username, he also removed these connections, tainting the credibility of the proof shown.

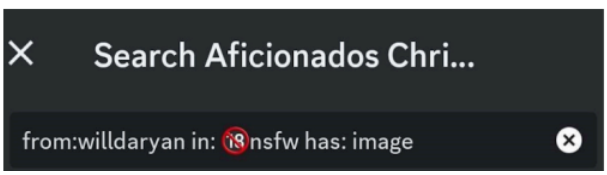
Fans claim Will has changed and taken accountability, however running away from this situation is all he has done.

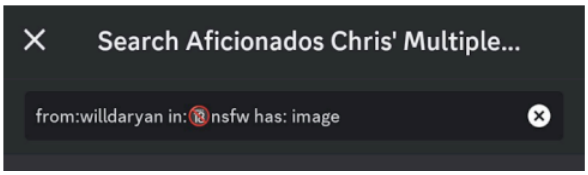


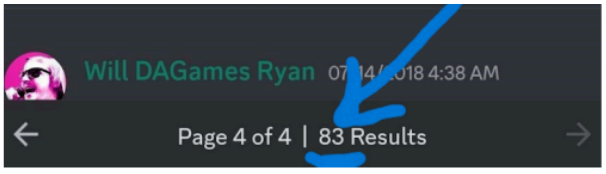
Will has not been active in his server since, and he has recently been active on a personal alt.

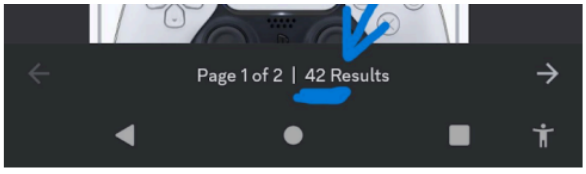
Deleting proof of lolicon being sent

With the creation of the docs, Will would go on to delete proof from AficionadosChris' server of him sending loli. He would fail to take accountability for this and instead delete the evidence, therefore showing a lack of acceptable response, and no remorse. (See the change in numbers below.)









Immature response from DAGames member Matthew Atlas Carey

In June of 2025, Wills coworker and friend, Matthew “Atlas” Carey would respond to comments under a video involving Will by a different creator. He has since changed his youtube account and username, but it's still his alias.

@ilovedagamesverymuch bro at this point nothings gonna satisfy you. He's my boss and the closest thing I've got to a best friend. I've given him a ton of shit for things and he's grown as a person. Ten years ago I was in middle school and I ain't the same person I am now. Growth takes time. If you can't look objectively at temporal change, you never wanted to care about him changing to begin with. And with that username? You never cared. Go find someone who will mourn you when you're gone, cause it sure won't be me.
Show less

First he says everything was debunked, then he goes on to say there was “temporal change.” which means these things are real. He excuses Will's actions because they were “10 years ago” (though the loli was less than 8,) because Atlas himself was in middle school 10 years ago. It is important to note Will was 23 ten years ago, and Atlas was 14. This is not comparable nor is it a good point, since Will was a grown adult in comparison to a teenager. In all, DAGames employees acting this way (“find someone who will mourn you - it won't be me.”) is immature.

DAGames Actively Including/Hiring Bad People

Matthew Atlas Carey

- Matthew “Atlas” Carey, also known as Zephrysc or My Consequence, faced pedophilia allegations sometime during late 2020, [he got] exposed in a now deleted twitter post detailing how he 'allegedly' had child pornography in his computer through his discord cache by one of his close friends (Michael Diaz: Dev of TRTF:5 Reincarnated), it also detailed that he would get investigated by the FBI. It is unknown if he got incarcerated for a short period of time or not. [here]
    - Atlas briefly discussing this investigation can be heard here.
    - A New thread in its entirety (By Michael Diaz) can be viewed here.

In all, Will shouldn’t have hired someone who had been investigated by the FBI for such serious claims, as it puts his fanbase in danger. The DA team have allegedly been notified of these allegations, though nothing has come out of it yet. Even if they are “false,” hiring people with such records is unprofessional.

ANONYMOUS STORIES AND TESTIMONIES

GlitchyBits/Tia and Aficionados Chris

- Since the creation of the second doc, an anonymous story had come out regarding Glitchybits/Tia, someone in the close circle of DAGames. This story showcases verbal abuse, alleged threats, and Tias instability going unnoticed by DA, despite many attempts to get them to pay attention.

“The DA team has been keeping an emotionally unstable abuser in their circle. They go under the username Glitchybits/Fictotides, their real name is Tia. (The story below is anonymous. Images of Tias abuse can be viewed here.)

It's never been publicly known outside of servers that she used to be involved in (several groups cut her off after seeing/finding out about her toxic behavior), but she has a known history of mentally unstable behavior, publicly sharing or posting violent thoughts, and several other things. From what I've been told by some parties who were formerly close to the DA team, and those who were impacted by Glitchy's abuse, most of the DA team have been aware of this since around August of 2022, even witnessed some of their antagonistic behavior, and have done nothing about it.

She was a mod in Aficionados discord server and during a huge fallout she had with some people in another server (some of those people being in Aficionados server at the time), she used her powers to hang people up or delete their messages on the server. Aficionado had checked the audit logs and confirmed it was her doing it, and the most he did was temporarily revoke her mod status, and didn't do anything else to punish her after she confirmed to him that she was doing it in DM's.

During another call in his server, there was a person she was having very negative feelings towards, and during a group watch session, Tia proceeded to hang this person up multiple times, causing a borderline anxiety attack from this person who went to Aficionado about this (who witnessed her doing this), in which he proceeded to do nothing about it after he said he'd "handle it."

Everything she was doing outside the server was treated as someone else's problem, even if this abusive behavior was brought to Chris or another DA mod. She had threatened a couple people I have been in contact with, one of the reasons being because they were getting more attention than her in calls or in art chats. Tia would complain behind peoples backs either in call, or in DM's about how they were more attractive than them, and would get visibly pissed off in calls when certain people would get compliments or more attention than her. I have also been told of an instance where she was in a server, and was pissed off that a 16 year olds art was getting more attention than her (she was in her late 20s at the time.)

From what I have gathered, she's still in the DA friend circle, they still interact with her regularly. There are a small amount of screencaps and a recent art piece showing they're still in contact.

I also learned thanks to a friend in another server that she was in that she had a massive blow up at Aficionado for having some people she abused in the server, and treating it like they're spying on her (I know that she's talking about Aficionado here cause the timeline perfectly adds up and I confirmed it with a friend that they were randomly removed from his server a day after this rant was posted)

I was someone who was close with Aficionado and some of the DA circle for about 8 years. I regrettably don't recall being witness to a majority of the stuff in the document, and I never really used the DA fan server. I think I was there for a period, but I left maybe a month or so in cause I don't really like being in servers with a large group of people. I was primarily in the Aficionado private server.

In the last 3 or 4 years of my friendship with them, I grew distant from the circle and went off to do my own things, IRL projects, other friend circles, things of that nature.
I do recall a few things that in hindsight, were really fucked up or abusive in that circle or just with Aficionado.

There were dark or fucked up jokes that I would always reason as "Well they just have a dark sense of humor." When I think back on them I don't know how I kept staying in there for so long, or how I thought certain things they did were okay, I guess I was so desperate to have a friend circle at the time that I stayed with it and desensitized myself into thinking these things were okay.
Like I said before, if you did something really shitty, most of the times he wouldn't care cause it "Didn't break my servers rules."
I distinctly remember an instance around 2020 where in a call, a friend was going off on an anti-vax tirade and saying how much they don't trust the vaccine, and they tried to prove them wrong but they kept pushing weird anti-vax beliefs. They still kept them in the server after that which I thought was highly questionable.

I don't remember the name but I remember Aficionado telling me this story back several years ago of a comic series that I don't recall if he actually made, or it was an idea he had floating around in his head. It was about a serial killer or something like that where he had schizophrenia and the only way he could stop the voices was to sexually assault children, he was in his mid 20s when he told me about this."

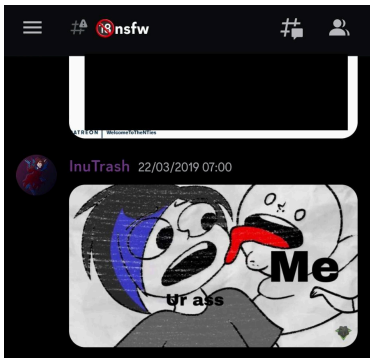
AficionadosChris

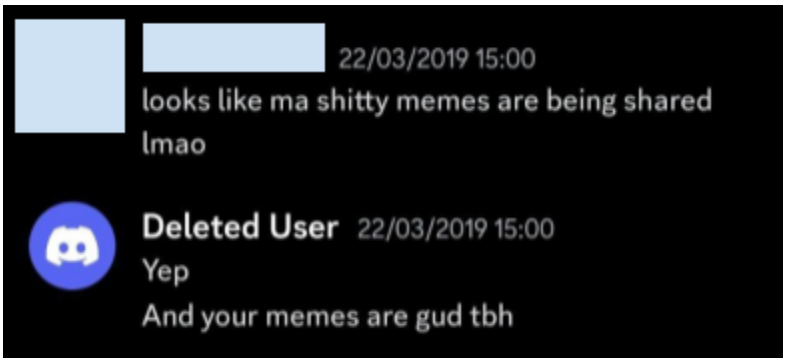
In 2024, another anon story came out about AficionadosChris acting inappropriately to a 14 year old in a voice chat with Will.
"Back in late 2018, I was in a voice chat with Chris, Will and one other person who I cannot remember, they were another fan so it isn't very relevant who they were. I was 14 at the time.

I do not remember how the conversation got to this point, but at one point Chris made a joke about me being into beastiality. Specifically using the term "beastiality" which I didn't understand at the time. I simply responded being confused about the joke and Chris seemed to find that funny. My camera was on (they were using a 3rd party tool to have cameras with voice chats at the time) and I had met Will sometime before to voice chat in person. They had to have known I was underaged.

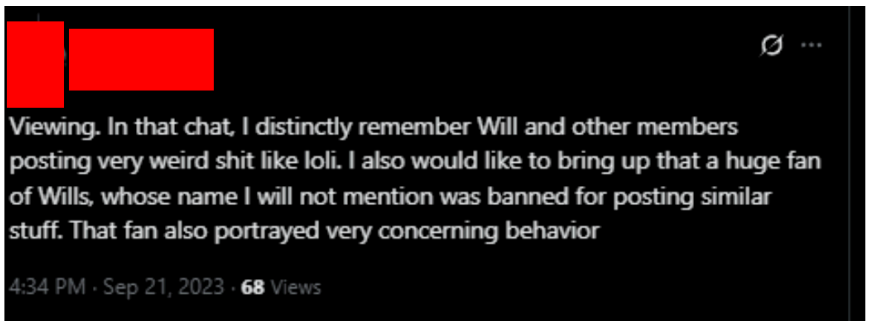
This by itself is not that awful. Simply weird. But together with everything else that has happened and what these people have done. I think it's important to share as it shows a pattern of the people in and around DAGames creating an unsafe environment."

Chris allowed a 15 year old in his NSFW chat (where loli was posted) in 2019. (ANON)





An ex-fan of DAGames alleging that Will posted Loli in his Discord server, among claims of [love-bombing] and manipulation towards young fans.



Viewing. In that chat, I distinctly remember Will and other members posting very weird shit like loli. I also would like to bring up that a huge fan of Wills, whose name I will not mention was banned for posting similar stuff. That fan also portrayed very concerning behavior

Ive been in the community and in the discord since 2017. Will has a history of creating a toxic and parasocial relationship with his very young fans, including me. He would often degrade and shame his fans and then love-bomb them.

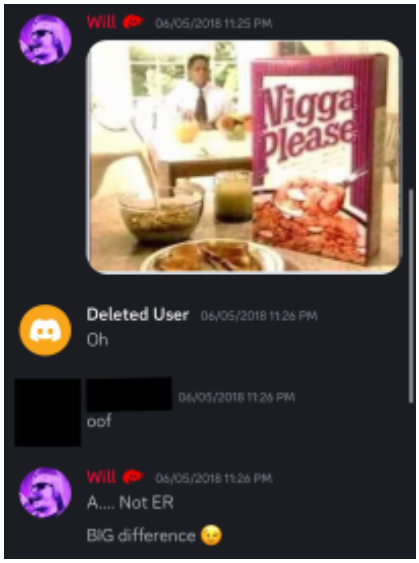
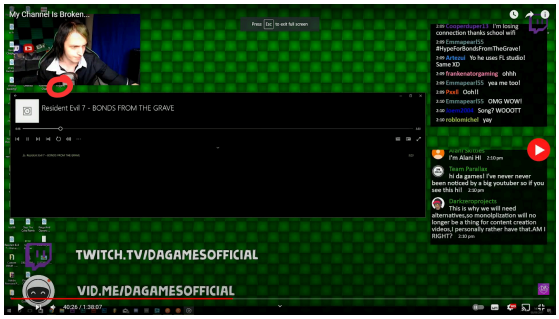
Racism and Anti-Semitism

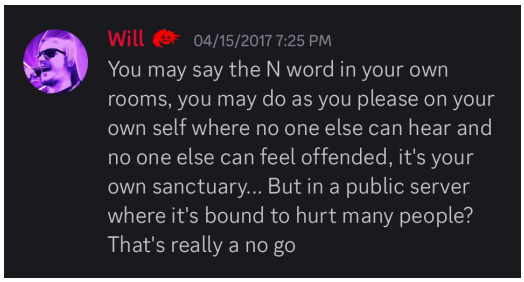
Use of racist humour by Will and Chris.



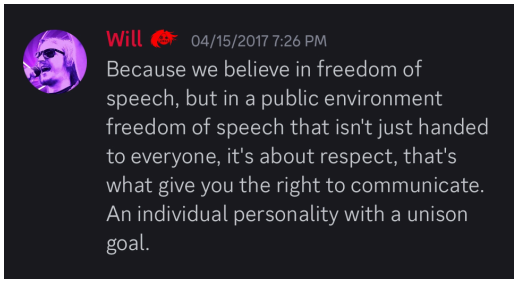
Will's desktop is shown to have a file named the N-word via a livestream.



After occurrences of Will using the N-word, fans would question Will as to why. He responded multiple times in discussion of the N-word, stating that it is “okay” to use the word when alone, that there is “no good or bad” in the word. Though he condemns use of it in his server, Will does not have grounds to speak on the word or how it is used. As shown here:



Will 04/15/2017 7:25 PM
You may say the N word in your own rooms, you may do as you please on your own self where no one else can hear and no one else can feel offended, it's your own sanctuary... But in a public server where it's bound to hurt many people? That's really a no go



Will 04/15/2017 7:26 PM
Because we believe in freedom of speech, but in a public environment freedom of speech that isn't just handed to everyone, it's about respect, that's what give you the right to communicate. An individual personality with a unison goal.

DAGames @DAGamesOfficial · Jun 10, 2018

I didn't say the "er" word, I said the "a" word. To most, it's a HUGE difference, to some it isn't. It's as controversial word, but controversy doesn't really go anywhere other than just being a part of existence, so there's no good OR bad in it honestly haha.

(This specific screenshot was in response to him using the word. Despite this response, Will would once again use the word in his #StoneColdChallenge video 4 months later, (10:35) showing a lack of accountability and change in character.)

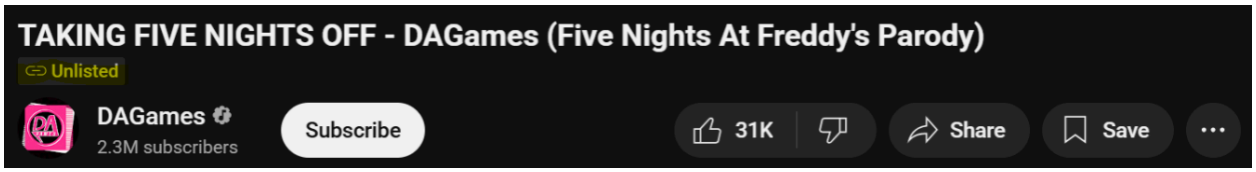
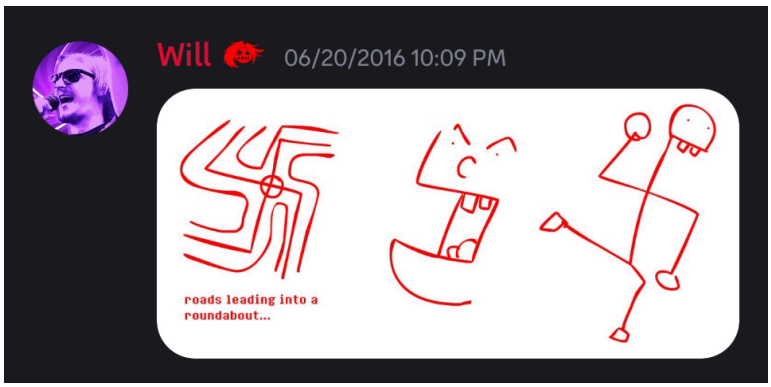
Will unlisting a FNAF parody due to racist joke

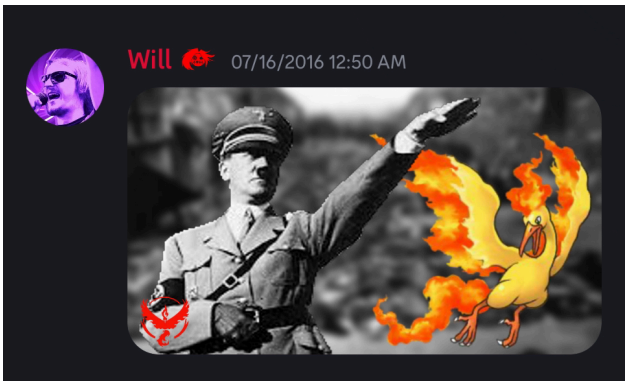
A FNAF skit where Will says the N-word as Bonnie was unlisted from his channel. It is unknown when. However, he has left other offensive videos public.



NAZI IMAGERY/ANTI-SEMITISM

Images below showcase the many occurrences of Will sharing/referencing Hitler/nazi content in his works and discord servers.





Will Using Racism For Comedy In His Content

A DAGames video from 2018, depicting racist stereotypes towards Asian people (I.E yellow skin, thin, upturned eyes, buck teeth, and an exaggerated accent.) This video also replaces “L”s with “R”s in the text, AKA a racist stereotype that Asians cannot pronounce “L”s due to their accents.

A skit from Pizza Puppet Panic, depicting racist stereotypes towards Black people (I.E Will speaking with a “blaccent”)
“A ‘blaccent’ is speaking in a way that mimics or mocks Black vernacular (speech, dialect) from a person who is not Black.” This is harmful because it perpetuates a negative stereotype generalizing how Black people speak.

Why Racist Humour is Still Racist

It is understood that the main defense for these “jokes” is that they are just jokes. However, the foundation and appeal of the joke is the fact that it is racism/xenophobia. A TEDxYouth Talk titled “Racist Jokes are Still Racist” is a better explanation and POV on the situation than I could give myself, it's about 10 minutes and I’d recommend watching it here. (video/audio quality is low)

To quote, “these jokes find power in the racism and shock humour [...] what is said online sets a precedent for what is said in person - its extremist content. [...] racist jokes leak into reality. [...] I gradually became so desensitized to racism, [due to racist humour,] that a loud brazen hard r did not shake my conscience.” (Jarrett)

“In racial jokes, there is this theory of ‘amused racial contempt, which I define as feeling pleasure in regarding others as inferior, with pity, or with contempt. It’s basically the idea of finding joy in treating others as worthless.
Racial humor became officially taboo, and unofficially a forbidden pleasure. Yet it has never gone away.” (Perez)

In all, the idea of a “racist joke” is something that has existed far beyond internet culture, (I.E minstrel shows, racist/xenophobic caricatures) and tragedies in history revolved around the idea that these hateful messages were accessible and accepted.
Will saying the N word, making holocaust jokes, and using racist stereotypes in his “comedic” works is all bad, because it promotes racism under a humorous guise as being acceptable and okay.
DA fans deflect this as not being racist because it's a joke not directed at any specific group. However, these jokes only affect the people they are targeted towards. Will was exploiting these groups for his own humour and content.

DEBUNKING INNOCENCE (Will be updated over time)

“The lolicon in Chris’ server was a bot test”

This claim was debunked by a previous DAGames moderator that wishes to stay anonymous. See below.

Today
hey its been a bit but i just checked The Situation on a whim and i keep seeing a thing coming up about "uhm ackshually the loli stuff was to test a bot" and like obviously it goes without saying but i can tell you with certainty that thats not true 12:09 am

the only bots that were ever in the server were regular ass discord bots like kawaiibot and then a random bespoke bot that alexflipnote made for the server that was to play music and stuff, and at no point was anything ever mentioned about a bot thatd pick up on inappropriate posts

This thread

This thread defends loli and other harmful actions due to the fact they are “dated”. Claims made in this thread have been disproven in this doc and evidence shown.

Will in 2018, admitting “I fapped to some controversial things” (14:50)

"I've fapped to some pretty controversial stuff. People that might find it very creepy and very weird. Which is something that I had to learn from too. Y'know, being a young person (which he wasn’t,) you don't even know what the hell a tit is. We've all fapped to some pretty subjective things." He then doubles down, no apology given, no recognition of wrongs and instead excused this by being young. However, Will had done this just a few months before. The vague recognition does not equate to accountability.

What is The Goal? What Should Will Be Doing Now?

The general idea of this document is to bring light to the situation regarding DAGames and Will Ryan, and to be the most accessible source for a situation that has been misinterpreted/misconstrued many times over. A response from DAGames is the main goal, reconciling the damage that has been done. This means:

- Extensive background checks of DAGames employees to evaluate their future with the company
- Apologies to young mods and victims
- A video or written statement from Will himself, detailing
    - The steps he is taking to improve himself.
    - Full accountability, covering every allegation in depth.
    - Apologizing for the damage done. (This includes harassment faced by DAGames fans)
    - A statement to his fanbase applying strict boundaries regarding sexual content, witchhunting, and bullying, effectively condemning the actions.

Lastly, an indefinite hiatus for DAGames members, as well as an indefinite hiatus from any and all production of future DAGames content to fully push these changes.

Closing Statement:

This doc will be added to and updated over time (not guaranteed but to be expected whether it be new content or edits)

Please do not let bad people define either side, it is important to be respectful online. I do not wish negativity on the DAGames fanbase, however I do condemn those trying to defend this situation blindly. Please process this information and these sources I and many others have provided and respectfully put aside your biases to evaluate the harm done by DAGames and Will Ryan. It is much appreciated.
